

What is my diagnosis?

You have broken (fractured) a small bone in your wrist called the scaphoid. The type of injury you have suffered is painful but almost always heals without the need for surgery.

What happens next?

- You will need to wear a split or cast for 6 to 8 weeks.
- You will receive a telephone consultation or fracture clinic review in the next 2 weeks.
- Please ensure the Emergency Department/Minor Injury Unit reception staff have your mobile and home phone numbers

What should I expect during recovery?

Weeks 1 to 8: time in cast/splint

- The wrist will be painful, but the cast or splint will help
- Simple painkillers like paracetamol and ibuprofen can be taken
- You may notice some bruising and swelling in the fingers
- Perform the exercises on the next page to keep your fingers and thumb moving
- You can use your hand for light day to day activities but no heavy lifting.

Weeks 8 to 12

- Once you come out of cast the wrist will feel unusual, but this is normal
- You may be referred to physiotherapy
- There is no specific time you can drive again. It is illegal to drive when wearing a sling, splint, cast, or moonboot. As you recover, it is your legal responsibility to be certain before you return to driving that you are able to control your vehicle normally and safely.

What do I need to know?

Top tips

- Elevate your wrist above the level of your heart when you are at home to reduce swelling
- Keep your fingers, elbow and shoulder moving despite your wrist being immobilised
- Stop or cut down on smoking while the bone is healing. Smoking has been proven to slow healing.

Key exercises

Finger movements

- Bend your knuckles fully then tuck in your fingers before making a full fist.
